POSTAL SERVICE TO BE IMPROVED, IS PROMISE GIVEN

Period of Six Months to Be Devoted to Plan; Officer Admits Charges Just

Correspondence made public today by Attorney W. E. Evans through the Chamber of Commerce relative to Congressman Walter F. Lineberger's activities in behalf of an independent postoffice show that the federal inspector who visited Glendale some weeks ago found service entirely unsatisfactory to the department.

However, instead of following the desire of the people for a separate service such as an independent office would give, it was recommended that better service be given through Los Angeles for a period of six months.

The following letter from J. W. Johnston, acting first assistant postmaster general, to the postmaster at Los Angeles summarizes the contents of all four communications on the subject and states definitely what the department plans to do in relieving the situation here:

September 28, 1921

Postmaster, Los Angeles, California.

My Dear Postmaster: A recent investigation of the service at Glendale, California, discloses that there are just grounds for complaint.

It developed that in the past it has been the practice at the close of each day to dispatch unworked mail to the main office, including drop or local matter, resulting in inexcusable delays as such matter must be worked in the main office and returned to Glendale the next morning for delivery; that the service windows have heretofore been closed during the first hour after opening in the morning and during the noon hour, that only two daily deliveries are given in the business section of the city, and that the last collection of the day has been made at 3:30 p. m. in the residential section and 4 p. m. in the business district.

In order to correct these unsatisfactory conditions you are requested to detail one additional regular clerk to Glendale in order to keep the service windows open throughout the entire business day and to insure the prompt preparation and dispatch of

Richardson D. Jones Hurt at High School

Richardson D. Jones, high school freshman, aged 15, met with quite an accident yesterday morning, during the gymnasium period, while practicing baseball. While sliding to base he injured his left leg. Dr. J. E. Eckles was called to administer surgical aid. It is now in a plaster cast, but he expects to be in attendance at high school Monday, unless complications occur. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Houston Jones of 376 West Lexington Drive, and nephew and namesake of Richardson D. White superintendent of Glendale city schools.

K. C. Sipple to Build $12,000 Business Block

K. C. Sipple has let the contract for a two-story business building on the corner of East Broadway and Adams. This building contains three business buildings on the first floor and two large apartments above making a very complete building and just what East Broadway needs. This building will cost between $11,000 and $12,000 when completed. Operations will be begun on this building this coming week.

MRS. I. C. BALDWIN IS ILL

Mrs. I. C. Baldwin, who was taken to the Glendale Sanitarium recently, suffering from a fractured hip, caused by a fall, is very seriously ill. Mrs. Baldwin, who is the mother of the Misses Ida, Myrtle and Jeannette Baldwin of North Orange street, and made her home with them, has passed her 87th birthday.

More Indictments In Alleged Booze Ring Are Expected

With Ernest Thede telling the federal grand jury yesterday all that he knows about the alleged Glendale "booze ring," the indictment of several persons not already in custody is predicted by the prohibition agents.

Operations of the Glendale ring were much more extensive than imagined, Thede's story is said to have revealed, and the clique of Los Angeles and Glendale men are believed to have obtained thousands of dollars in "hush" money and hundreds of gallons of illicit booze.

The most sensational part of the story has yet to be made public, but it is hinted that Paul Hirschler, whose arrest was reported in The Glendale Evening News on Thursday, acted as agent for both Los Angeles and Glendale "booze rings" and failed to turn over any of the cash proceeds which leaves the families of Guy Wells and William Kyncy dependent on relatives for support.

While Thede's story is accepted by the dry law enforcement officers as correct, his knowledge of the inner workings of the ring is vague and his boasted leadership now appears to have waned. The evidence gathered so far seems to revolve about Kyncy and the restaurant he formerly owned with former policemen Wells and Kermode and Charles Powell and young Thede using his place as a center of activity.

LOCAL FOLK ENJOY CADMAN CONCERT BY MUSIC CLUB

Prominent Artists Appear on Program; Various Numbers Excellently Presented

The first concert of the winter season, which was given by the Glendale Music club at the high school auditorium last night, by Charles Wakefield Cadman, American composer, Margaret Messer, Canadian operatic soprano, and Sol Cohen, violinist, far exceeded the highest anticipations.

While the work of Mr. Cadman is widely known and popular, the other two artists who appeared on the program with him were comparatively new to the people of Glendale, and their unusually fine numbers proved an added treat for the 500 members and friends of the club who were fortunate enough to attend this opening concert.

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, president of the organization, extended greetings of welcome to the club members. Mrs. Jones stated that the aims of music clubs and federation throughout the state is to make musical America the center of music. To the well informed music loved and critic, the name of Cadman is also identified with a big movement for American opera and chamber music. He occupies a distinctive place in American music by virtue of his propaganda for American Indian folk-song.

Outside Official Present

An added honor was extended to the members of the Glendale Music club last night when Mrs. Jones introduced the president of the California Federation of Music clubs, Mrs. Cecil Frankel of Hollywood, who complimented Mrs. Jones and the members of the club on the remarkable growth and progress which has been made by the club since its organization in February.

The first number on the program was a song, "Nightingale," by Miss Margaret Messer, accompanied at the piano by the composer, Mr. Cadman. This was followed by "The Moon Behind the Cottonwood," by Miss Messer, Mr. Cadman and violin obligato by Mr. Cohen, which met with con-

VERA HALLOWAY IS WEDDED; FORMER TEACHER HERE

Becomes Bride of Clyde C. Downing; Ceremony Takes Place In Whittier

The home of Rev.and Mrs. N. T. Edwards of Whittier was the scene of a beautiful wedding ceremony last Saturday afternoon, October 1, 1921, when Clyde C. Downing of Phoenix claimed Miss Vera Halloway, formerly of Glendale, as his bride.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. J. C. Wilson, assisted by Rev. N. T. Edwards, both of whom are brothers-in-law of the bride. The dainty maid of honor was little Vera Halloway, namesake of the bride, while Master Arthur Edwards and Virginia Halloway scattered flowers in the pathway of the bridal party.

The spacious Edwards home was beautifully decorated with yellow dahlias and ferns, which also formed an altar before which the ceremony took place.

Following the ceremony a reception was held, after which the happy couple left by automobile for a honeymoon trip in the southland. They will be at home after the first of November at 40 West Holly street, Phoenix, where the bridegroom has a home awaiting them. The good wishes of a host of friends in Glendale, Whittier, Pasadena and Los Angeles go with them to their new home.

Former Teacher Here

Mrs. Downing was the daughter of the late I. N. Halloway, a well-known resident of Kansas, and his wife, Mrs. Mary Halloway, who recently moved to Whittier, where she is now making her home. Mrs. Downing was formerly in charge of the Home Economics Department at Glendale Union High school and during the war graduated from the Y. W. C. A. training school in New York City preparatory for work over seas. She was active in church and social affairs during the years spent here.

Mr. Downing is chief deputy of the United States district court and has been connected with prominent men of affairs in Washington, D. C., and New York City. He was graduated from the University of New York City and began the practice of his profession in Los Angeles. During the recent war he won a commission as officer, and after the close of hostilities he went to Phoenix.

Mrs. Elizabeth Brown Is Hostess to Chapter

The first meeting of Chapter BA, P. E. O., was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, 416 North Kenwood street, and was in the form of an all-day session, with about twenty members present. As yesterday was philanthropic day with the chapter, liberal donations of clothing were received for the welfare bureau of Glendale.

After a short business meeting in the morning a delicious luncheon was served at noon. Mrs. Brown was assisted as hostess by Mrs. Mabel Parker and Mrs. Florence Wintersgill. In the afternoon the members did sewing for the "True Love Home" in Los Angeles, and while thus engaged enjoyed an exchange of vacation reminiscences. The aim of the chapter is to make philanthropic work a feature of the year's activities.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Peart Entertain for Visitors

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Peart of 111 East Elk avenue was the scene of a happy occasion. On Thursday night when a gay party of friends of Mrs. E. R. Cunningham of Richmond, Virginia, gathered as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Peart in honor of the eastern visitor. Mr.s Cunningham, who is a sister of Mr. Peart, is enjoying a two months' visit in southern California and is at present the guest of her mother, Mrs. Jane Peart of 202 North Louise street, this city. She has been in Glendale for the past three weeks.

Following the dinner, which was a delicious five-course affair, the members of the party enjoyed themselves with an excellently rendered musical program and a general social time. Refreshments were served later in the evening.

Those present at the occasion were the guest of honor, Mrs. E. R. Cunningham and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Peart and small son, Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McCulloch, Mrs. Jane Peart, Miss Eunice Peart, Miss Dorothy Peart and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Peart.

PRESENT OF BUICK COUPE

Mrs. J. E. Eckles has been the recipient of a Buick coupe, presented to her by her husband, Dr. J. E. Eckles, in honor of her birthday.

FIRST GRID BATTLE OF SEASON TAKEN BY LOCAL HIGH

Glendale Defeats Alhambra's Squad by Score of 14-0 In League Contest

After listening to the joyous and excited outbursts of several dozen automobiles full of high school students as they returned to Glendale at sunset last night it was no difficult matter to determine that the local football warriors had emerged from their first league game "right side up." Their opponents in the initial combat were the Alhambra huskies and the final score was 14 to 0.

Throughout the contest it was easily observed that Glendale had it on their plucky rivals, and the score does not tell the true story of the fracas. Glendale gained ground consistently, their total yardage being almost triple that of the Alhambra performers.

Led by Chester "Go get 'em" Green, the locals' brainy signal caller, the entire backfield starred at various times through the game. Besides out generaling his opponent Green made a number of cheer arousing gains, as well as being in practically every defensive play of the afternoon. Bob McCourt, who is also one of the season's rookies, showed that he was no slouch at transporting the oval, making long end runs and line bucks almost at will.

Score in Middle Quarters

Glendale's scoring took place in the two middle quarters, Green bucking over the line in the second period and Stofft circling the field for a fifteen-yard run for a count in the latter part of the third. Green's feat showed extraordinary nerve and co-operation with only one down to go and the ball on the three-yard line he received the ball from Chase at center and the entire backfield rushed through the Alhambra line, the oval being easily carried over the goal line.

On the line Captain Dutcher and Cecil Wilson, left end, featured with their brilliant playing. Dutcher, although being hampered with a weak ankle, was "death" to the opposing backs, stopping their plays time after time. Wilson also showed up well on the defense, although his specialty was that of making successful end-around plays. On several occasions he whisked around the opposite end for gains of from five to fifteen yards.

The local players are deserving of additional credit for their victory, in view of the fact that the Alhambra giants outweighed Glendale ten pounds to a man.

Locals Meet Covina Next

Next week's league team will be played with Covina on the local gridiron, and Coach Hayhurst will work overtime every night in an effort to further perfect his already smooth running machine. The game will take place next Friday. Yesterday's line-up:

Cerritos P.-T. A. In Its First Regular Meeting

The first regular meeting of the Cerritos avenue Parent-Teacher association, of which Mrs. E. L. Adams is president, was held at the school building Thursday afternoon with about ninety members in attendance. Preceding the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed, during which tea and wafers were served.

The program which followed included instrumental music by Olive Glick; readings "From a Far Country," by Elsie Whitney; address, "A Woman's Place in Civic Activities," by Dr. Jessie A. Russell; address, "The School Bond Question," by Richardson D. White; address of welcome, by Mrs. Anna Curtis, principal of the Cerritos avenue school.

At the business meeting a resolution was passed endorsing the school bond issue by a large majority. A resolution was also adopted requesting the school board to install electric lights in the school building so as to enable the holding of meetings in the evening.

VARIED PROGRAM AT AMERICAN LEGION AND AUXILIARY

E. F. Sanders Tells Facts and Fancies; F. C. McDonald's Descriptions Pleasing

The scheduled joint meeting of the local American Legion Post and the Women's Auxiliary took place last night in the Legion hall on East Broadway with the largest attendance of the year. In the absence of Post Commander Emil Kiefer the chair was taken by Dru C. Nicoles, who was last year's commander.

E. F. Sanders, assistant secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce and general booster for Glendale, was the principal speaker of the evening, his amusing stories and clever delivery entertaining his audience throughout his talk. His main theme was the organization, accomplishments and the possibilities of the American Legion in all parts of the United States, several high tributes being paid to the ex-service men's association. As is his custom Mr. Saunders concluded his talk with a few words boosting southern California and Glendale in particular. He ended with the following statement:

"Of every hundred men in the east ninety-nine of them are planning to come to California, and of this total ninety-eight are headed for southern California. And Glendale will get her share."

Tells About Islands

F. C. McDonald, who is a member of the Hilo Post No. 3, Hawaiian Islands, appeared on the program, completing his description of the "bright spot of the Pacific," which he started at last week's meeting. His talk, which "took" his listeners from San Francisco to Honolulu and around the islands, was highly appreciated by all present.

The evening was enlivened by the jazzy playing of Phil E. Dillinger and his three-piece orchestra, who donated their services to the Legion for the occasion. Mr. Dillenger, who "operates" the traps and drums with manipulative dexterity, also entertained the audience with several of his songs and recitations.

Membership Drive

Richardson D. White, who is chairman of the membership committee of the Post, made a brief speech in telling of the coming membership drive, which the Glendale Legionnaires will conduct throughout the San Fernando valley in the near future. Mrs. James F. McBryde, president of the Auxiliary, told of what the women are planning to do regarding the drive, after which it was announced that a final pre-campaign meeting of the executive committees of both organizations will take place at the Legion hall next Wednesday night.

Prior to adjournment Miss Wanita Emery announced that the Auxiliary will conduct a cooked food sale next Saturday, the funds derived from which will go to aid the membership drive.

Following the meeting refreshments, consisting of ice-cream and cake, were served, after which dancing was enjoyed until midnight.

They will accompany the body to the cemetery. At the family lot in Forest Lawn another prayer will be offered.

HOME RUN KING HAS BAD ABSCESS ON HIS LEFT ELBOW

Suffering Considerable Pain and Cannot Participate In Games, Is Belief

By JACK VEIOCK
Written for International News Service

POLO GROUNDS, New York, Oct. 8, 1:30 p. m.—I have just interviewed Babe Ruth and have learned from him that there is very great doubt whether he will be able to appear in another game of the world's series.

Babe was sitting in the Yanks' clubhouse and he said at once that he was in considerable pain from the surgeons' wound on his left arm.

"If my arm keeps on paining like this I am surely out of the game for the series," said the Babe. "I hope that the pain will let up but there seems no sign of it. You can see for yourself how swollen my arm is. You can say for me that the way it looks now I shall not play again."

The home run king was definitely declared out of the lineup as a result of the lancing of an abscess on his left elbow. He developed the abscess from an injury received in sliding to a base in the recent Cleveland series.

The loss of Ruth was a severe blow to the American league champions.

Junior Auxiliary Will Give Program Tonight

The junior auxiliary of the Glendale Music club will give an interesting Russian program tonight at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Richardson, 1856 South Brand boulevard.

This is the first regular program of the musical season. An invitation has been issued for all Juniors to be present and to bring guests with them who might like to join the club. The semi-annual dues of this club are only seventy-five cents, which admits those in good standing to all the public concerts without further cost.

A feature of the program will be the playing upon his violin of typical Russian melodies heard in Siberia by Glenn Hurd. Miss Lucille Allen and Miss Dorothy Watson will play a violin duet accompanied by Miss Winifred Parker. Miss Dorothy Thompson and Miss Helena Richardson will join in a duet, accompanied by Miss Ruth Goldsborough. The Junior orchestra will play two Russian numbers from Tschowsky.

LAYOFF WILL HELP PITCHING STAFFS; GATE IS RECORD

Paid Attendance Is Already Over 100,000 Mark; Total Receipts $335,000

By JACK VEIOCK
Written for International News Service

POLO GROUNDS, New York, Oct. 8.—Today's game between the Giants and Yankees, the fourth of the series, was called off at 2 o'clock this afternoon on account of rain.

A storm that broke shortly after 12 o'clock drenched the playing field and drove bleacherites to cover almost one hour before game time.

Rain checks will be honored, according to the management.

Fully 20,000 fans braved the uncertain weather on the chance that the teams would be able to play.

Extra Rest for Pitchers

The layoff today was a boon to both teams as it gave the pitchers of the Yanks and Giants an extra day of rest.

The Yanks are in need of the day of grace as far as pitchers are concerned and more so since they have lost Babe Ruth, at least temporarily.

Paid attendance has already passed the 100,000 mark and receipts have overshot $335,000, which is a record for the first three games.

If the teams should play eight games, more than 300,000 fans will witness them and more than $750,000 will be taken in at the box offices. No previous series has had the dimensions of this one for possible attendaance or receipts, and because of the prices and the New York monopoly it may be quite a while before another series approaches it.

Betting on the series, which found odds strongly in favor of the Yanks Friday, simmered down today. The Yanks with two victories to one for the Giants are still favorites, but the odds dropped back to 7 to 5 from a plane of 2 to 1 in many instances.

Colorado P.-T. A. In Interesting Meeting

The first regular meeting of the season of the Colorado street Parent-Teacher association, of which Mrs. E. S. McKee is president, was held yesterday afternoon at the school building. After a social hour, during which refreshments were served, the program and business meeting were held. Richardson D. White spoke on the school bond election. Mrs. John Robert White, federation president, spoek on the aims of the P.-T. A.

During the business meeting the following committee chairmen were appointed: Miss Ida Waite, membership; Mrs. Josephine Brant, publicity; Mrs. Mullin, education; Miss Ida Waite, finance; Mrs. J. P. King, philanthropy; Mrs. McLaine, patriotism; Mrs. A. H. Fuelscher, courtesy; Miss Ross, playground; Mrs. W. H. Dotson, child labor and juvenile court; Mrs. Brandon, kindergarten; Mrs. C. A. Perry, emblem and magazine; Mrs. F. W. Chambers, home economics; Mrs. A. E. Lewis, program; Mrs. McLaine, child hygiene. Room mothers appointed were Miss Lund, first grade; Mrs. Thompson, second; Mrs. Webster, third; Mrs. W. H. Dotson, fourth; Miss Campbell, fifth; Mrs. J. Houle, sixth; Mrs. M. Burke, kindergarten.

all mails at the close of the day without the necessity of forwarding them to the main office for handling. It is believed that you should be able to make this detail without additional expense, but if, after a complete survey of your office you find this impossible you may use such additional auxiliary assistance in the main office, not exceeding eight hours daily, as may be necessary, and submit to this bureau an estimate of the amount that will be required on this account during the December quarter.

Change in Service

While the inspector was at Glendale he directed the inauguration of a night collection from all street letter boxes within the business section. This action is approved and it is desired that this collection be continued.

The matter of giving Glendale branch direct pouch service via the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific railways has been taken up with the second assistant, division of railway mail service, and it is understood that this service will be inaugurated within a short time. As soon as this is done, it is requested that you readjust the carriers' routes so as to provide a third delivery in the business sestion about 11 or 11:30 a. m.

The investigation disclosed the necessity for more commodious quarters and additional lock boxes, but the final report of the inspector on the phase of the case has not yet been received. Upon its receipt you will be fully instructed in the matter.

From the facts developed there is no question that the city of Glendale has not been receiving adequate and efficient postal service. In the past mail has been unnecessarily delayed in passing through and to and from the main office, and it would seem that complaints of poor service have received scant attention. This condition cannot be condoned by the department and in view of the size and importance of Glendale it is necessary that the mail for that city be handled in the most expeditious manner in the future. tI is believed that the cause for complaint will be removed upon the establishment of direct pouch service, but in the meanmanner in the future. It is believed give this matter your personal attention in order to assure absolutely efficient service.

Respectfully yours,

J. W. JOHNSTON,
Acting First Assistant.

CHURCH BAZAAR IS GREATLY ENJOYED BY BIG CROWD

Mr. and Mrs. Glendale, Family and Friends From Outside Spend Money Liberally

Quivers! Mr. and Mrs. Glendale, their son, Grand View and their two daughters, Tropico and Casa Verdugo, had a large time last night at the Catholic church bazaar and agreed to go again tonight.

One of the features of the festivities was the beaming smile upon the face of Father James S. O'Neil. There's a reason: He expects to reduce the church debt of $7000 by about $3000 at the conclusion of the present indoor carnival.

Good natured, whole hearted generosity characterized the merry-makers. About $700 was taken in over the counters Thursday and over $673 last night. Money from many of the salesforce has not yet been counted. A larger crowd than ever is expected tonight and receipts of at least $1000 are anticipated.

The Glendale family evidently does not believe in dieting for it spent $157 last night for cooked food—and agreed that the prices were very reasonable. About fourteen gallons of ice cream were consumed. Hot coffee from time to time stimulated the strength of the workers and their midnight lunch, after their cash had been counted at the end of a strenuous evening of pleasure and toil, seemed very palatable.

Yes, It's 'Fair'

The country store cleared $96.50. Considering the fact that the groceries were all donated and that there was no overhead, this was considered a fair net profit. The Glendale family was well stocked up with groceries. The red, white and blue jockey caps worn by the grocery clerks were very conspicuous.

The Glendale family's sweet tooth was much in evidence. Over $50 worth of candy was paid for—just how much was delivered is unkno n. Anyhow, it was good candy and most of it was homemade. Nose wipers and tear strainers went big. The handkerchief booth reported receipt of $15.

The largest income came from the fancy work booth, also known as the "society booth." This displayed hardware, plumbing, stationery, perfumery and enough clothes to prevent Mrs. Glendale from getting over the "nothing-to-wear" gag for a year. So far as known, no jimmies or burglar kits were on sale although almost everything else was exhibited here. It "nicked" the Glendale family pocketbook for $220.

Pop For Papa, Mama and Pet

A large part of the $45 taken in at the children's booth came from the sale of pop to moisten the throats of hoarse ballyhoos. The days of slavery may be over but the auction of kewpie dolls flourished vigorously to the extent of $68. Some prominent citizens went home with twins.

A kangeroo court acted speedily and without undue formality. Father O'Neill was promptly fined $15 for disturbing the peace. He was too good natured altogether. However, his bail was quickly raised. The police magistrate reported fines of $25.15—he collected them, too.

Several things at this bazaar were not for sale: The friendly, hearty, sociability; the explosive, dynamic, vigor of the workers; the cordial cooperation of the sales force in "cleaning" the Glendale family out of its last sou; and the hilarious, "hifalutin'" good time enjoyed by all—both brigands and victims.

The Glendale family expects to have supper at the bazaar tonight and to take home enough food for the Sunday dinner. That's why dad is down in the bank loading up with bank notes, now.

BIBLE CONFERENCE HEARS TALKS BY NOTED SPEAKERS

Three Things That Cannot Be Shaken Are Described by Dr. J. Cort Myers

The audience has been steadily increasing at the Bible conference being held at the Presbyterian church and last night the lecture room was thrown open to accommodate a part of the gathering that was present to hear Dr. J. Cort Myers deliver his most inspiring address, "World Shaken From Center to Circumference."

Dr. Myers began his address by enumerating the remarkable things that had resulted during the recent world war and showed the great physical and political changes that had taken place. From this point the speaker then emphasized three things that could not be shaken, the throne of God; the Bible; and the church of God.

In a very interesting part of his address Dr. Myers described his visit to the throne room of Germany in 1913, and how he was impressed that that throne apparently could never be shaken.

Kaiser Sets On Sawbuck

"And tonight," said the speaker, "the kaiser sits on a sawbuck instead of an imperial throne. . . . The supreme cause of the world war was that the nations of the earth forgot God, every nation involved—Germany, France, Italy, Great Britain and America."

Dr. Myers then launched an attack on socialism, and outlined some of the dangerous things its radical adherence would lead to.

In the part of address dealing with the fact that the Bible could not be shaken, he stated that there were four periods through which the Bible either had gone, or was at present passing. First came Ingersoll, and his teaching; then criticism; and then rationalism, substituting the reason of man for the authority of the Bible; and at present, new theology, which combines, he said, many cults and "isms." In all cases he said the Bible had stood the test.

Outlines Four Pillars

In elaborating on the foundation of the church of God, Dr. Myers outlined its four pillars, and authoritatively quoted many Biblical passages to prove why the church could never be shaken.

There will be no services this afternoon. At 7:30 tonight Rev. Geo. W. Davis will address the conference on "The Perfect Day." Tomorrow there will be three services.

At 11 o'clock in the forenoon Dr. Myers will speak on "The View From Mount of Olives." At 3 o'clock in the afternoon Dr. F. W. Farr of Los Angeles will speak on the subject, "Daniel's Image."

"In the evening at 7:30, Dr. Myers will again be heard in a remarkable address, "What Will Save Religion in the United States?"

Yesterday Afternoon

At the conference yesterday afternoon Rev. W. E. Blackstone, author of "Jesus Is Coming," and a leader who has attended the Bible conference here regularly, gave his interesting and optimistic address entitled "Smiting the Image." Rev. Blackstone used as the foundation for his address the second chapter of Daniel, and during his talk, continued an informal discussion of Biblical passages and their significance.

Rev. Blackstone celebrated his eightieth birthday Thursday, but despite his years is still well presereved and delivers a thought-inspiring and powerful address. The conference yesterday afternoon was preceded by a few remarks by Rev. Louis Tinning, assistant pastor of the church, after which Mrs. Fannie Marple Retts gave the message in song.

Two Pantages Acts on Vaudeville Bill at Glendale Theatre

Two Pantages acts are jointly headlined at the Glendale Theatre tonight on the Meiklejohn and Dunn Vaudeville Road Show.

Jack and Marie Gray with their "Dancing Kewpies" and Copeland and Brayton in "Sunshine a La 1921" are the two headliners—providing probably the most pretentious program of vaudeville ever presented in Glendale.

The Grays have just completed the Pantages circuit, following a European tour. They have an act that gives wholesome amusement and entertainment, pleasing not only the little ones but the grownups as well.

Copeland and Brayton combine music, and dancing and clean comedy in their offering. This act is still on the Pantages circuit and is here through a fortunate chain of circumstances.

In all five acts are on the program in addition to the special feature picture, "The Cheater Reformed," starring William Russell.

The big program is offered at the usual popular prices. Two shows are given, 7 and 9 o'clock.

PUBLIC SAFETY DEPENDS UPON PUBLIC SENTIMENT

By Standish L. Mitchell in Touring Topics

THE question of public safety, protection of life and property on the highways, is a matter for earnest and thoughtful consideration in these days of crowded traffic. The use of motor vehicles has become general. Traffic in California has increased more than 750 per cent in the past ten years and can be expected to increase further. The number of accidents has grown to frightful proportions and the toll of life is appalling.

Motor accidents occur with such frequency that there is a tendency to become hardened to the general situation, except when the weight of sorrowful results is brought home to individuals directly affected. The public has no right to resign itself to a condition that may fallaciously be termed "inevitable." Motor accidents are NOT inevitable. Almost all of them can be avoided.

Traffic laws without number may be enacted. Law enforcement may be made rigorous in the extreme yet accidents will continue to occur unless the people themselves—all of them—are duly concerned in the matter. The responsibility of the individual goes beyond laws and regulations. Each and every man that drives an automobile, each and every pedestrian, has a solemn obligation to himself and to his fellowman. After hearing many reports, considering accident statistics and discussing accident causes the National Council of Safety came to the conclusion that PUBLIC SAFETY DEPENDS UPON PUBLIC SENTIMENT, that is, that accidents can be avoided if the people care enough about the matter to give it due thought and attention.

It is a proper assumption that public safety is to be most ardently desired. Then, here is the way to attain it.

Let every man who owns or drives an automobile spend a little time standing on the curb of a crowded thoroughfare. Let him observe the mistakes of the careless drivers and the recklessness of the wilful ones. Let him consider these things as they reflect on his own habits of driving. Finally let him resolve, with sincerity and determination, that he will not again be guilty of doing any of the things that might be dangerous to himself or others.

Public safety will be attained when selfishness and its twin brother, thoughtlessness, are replaced on the road by carefulness and consideration—when men and women realize that they have higher obligations even than those imposed by traffic laws. There is a too perfunctory observance of traffic laws through fear of arrest. There is not enough understanding of the underlying reasons for the regulations. That man takes a wrong attitude who says to himself, "I must drive slowly around that corner because a traffic officer may stop me and I shall have to pay a fine." The real reason, the humanitarian reason, for driving slowly around a sharp corner, and for driving carefully at all times, is that to do otherwise will endanger life or property, or both.

If every person, reading the appalling and mounting list of accidents, will consider his personal responsibility and obligations, and will do all he can to avert accidents, then public safety will have been attained to a degree that would now seem impossible. That personal responsibility exists. It is inescapable. When the public realizes and appreciates its responsibility it will have brought about its own safety.

Fish & Tarr Sign Up for More Chevrolets

Fish & Tarr, local Chevrolet dealers, signed a new contract Thursday which calls for three times as many cars as they had originally called for in a contract made last August. Practically all dealers are reported doing likewise by the Chevrolet factory at Oakland. Production was oversold 150 per cent last month, according to O. W. Tarr.

The next carload of Chevrolet "four-ninety" models provide a superior machine, according to word received from the factory. Changes have come about unheralded, but the buyer can judge from appearance alone that it is a better car than ever. It is a great automobile value.

Careful attentions have been paid details in making the superior Chevrolet, according to Mr. Tarr, and his sales force would be pleased to demonstrate the new features to the public.

Get Acquainted, Less Price Cutting, Claim

"Several times members of our association have come to me and expressed a wish htat we might do something about price cutting," remarked Joseph A. Moore, president of the San Gabriel Valley Auto Trades assiciation, the other day.

"The average net profit in the business now is only from one and a half to five per cent. If all dealers would get better acquainted with their business, there would be no price cutting."

Exide Service Station Business Is Increasing

"Drive through" is the invitation extended motorists by the Autolectric company at 113 West Harvard street, which is the official Exide service station here. Parker & Black have better equipped their plant for service, storage and repair work.

"A change of front," said Mr. Parker, "gives us more room in which to handle the increasing business."

TERRIFIC TEST FOR STUDEBAKER CAR SHOWS WORTH

J. A. Clark Returns From Big Trip In Sedan; Tells of Some of Experiences

With 24,900 miles recorded on his odometer J. A. Clark has just returned to Los Angeles after a touring trip in a Studebaker sedan that covered a considerable portion of the United States.

Taking delivery of the sedan at the Detroit factory, Clark and his wife began their tour by driving to New York. Several weeks were spent in eastern states before a trip down the Atlantic coast to Florida was begun. The palmetto state was well explored and very much enjoyed, but Clark says that, to him, California is still the motorists' paradise.

When the party was ready to return north from Florida the roads were impassable in the south, for rains had carried away some of the bridges. The sedan was shipped to New York by boat and the passengers went by train. At New York the tour was once more resumed and finally the long trip across the continent was begun.

Good and Bad Roads

As on all cross-continent tours the car had to negotiate good, bad and indifferent roads, but Clark says that at no time was he stalled for lack of power nor did he have any troubles other than a few punctures, yet when he arrived at his home the car had a service record that was unusual for the length of time it had been used.

Clark reports rather poor road condition between Raton and Las Vegas in New Mexico and also near Seligman in Arizona. The stretch near Seligman has been poor for years for there is a rock-strewn hill with ruts washed deep by storms and in these ruts are innumerable sharp stones that make travel difficult and turning out for another car almost impossible.

What used to be a poor stretch of road between Williams and Flagstaff in Arizona has been fixed up and is in good shape. Over this the Studebaker sedan rolled at thirty-five miles an hour or better.

Gives Car Hard Test

Unintentionally Clark gave his car a very strenuous test after leaving Kingman, Arizona. He had been advised to take the Oatman road to Needles instead of going south by way of the bridge over the Colorado river at Topoc. A few miles out of Kingman the right hand road was taken by mistake and soon after the car had to negotiate one steep grade after another, some of them running as steep as thirty per cent or more.

Clark was advised to turn back and go to the main road to Oatman instead of following the Chloride road which he had mistakenly taken as it was reported that nothing but the very light cars could get through by way of Chloride. Clark persisted in going ahead, however, and one section of the road required two hours to make twenty miles.

Tells of Experiences

When he arrived at Oatman and told of his experience his story of Studebaker performance created a great deal of interest as it was unheard of before for a closed car of the size of the Studebaker sedan to get over the hills on that road.

The greater pleasure of touring in a closed car even when rough roads and mountain grades have to be negotiated makes Clark a strong advocate of that type. He says that his sedan shows no signs of deterioration or need of overhauling after the long trip with its strenuous experiences.

According to S. C. Packer, Studebaker distributor for San Fernando valley, the experiences of the Clark party are similar to those reported nearly every week by some Studebaker owner who has had better car performance under difficult conditions than he expected.

Value of Auto Trade Association Is Told

The average life of a business in districts where there is not trade association among the merchants is only seven years while it is fifteen years, or over twice as long, in the districts where the men are banded together for mutual protection.

This assertion was made to several Glendale auto dealers recently in Pasadena by John W. Maltman, former president of the Los Angeles Auto Trades association and now attorney for the California Auto Trades association. Although Mr. Maltman is a lawyer, he takes a keen interest in automotive affairs. He expressed a regret that lawyers did not exhibit more co-operation and admitted that they earned their living mostly by "fighting each other."

Speaking about the San Gabriel Auto Trades association, Mr. Maltman declared:

"I know that you will be a thousand fold repaid for the little money and time you put into it. When anybody does the association a good turn, he is also doing you a good turn individually."

MOVIE STARS FOR SAFE HIGHWAYS, CLUB ASSERTS

Police Judges Are Urged to Give Jail Sentences Instead of Fines

Movie stars and prominent actors in Southern California are backing up the general drive for highway safety, according to a statement just issued by the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Taking the recent defi of Mary Garden and other notables in the east that "they would enjoy speeding so long as they could pay fines for the pleasure" as a basis for action, the auto club is going to do all in its power to get state-wide cooperation on the part of police court judges to substitute jail sentences for cash fines.

Motion picture star residents in Southern California, however, upon whom the stigma of reckless driving has rested for some months, have issued individual statements through the auto club officers that they personally are backing up all safety movements in California.

Many Members of Club

A large number of motion picture folk are members of the club, and as such they declare that they are going to extremes, to set good examples in the way of careful driving, realizing that the eyes of the public is upon them.

"Prominent actors have just about as much privacy as the goldfish," pointed out Wallace Reid, yesterday, "and it is up to the player, who usually owns a 'sporty' looking auto, to set a sterling example for the careful operation of that car.

"If a motion picture player speeds about the streets and on the highways, then there are many thoughtless drivers who think they can emulate his example and also speed. They say, 'I saw Reid going forty miles an hour this morning, so why can't I?' But I am not going to go at a greater rate of speed than the law allows, and I am sure there are scores of other players who feel as I do about it."

Favor Jail Sentences

"Just forty-eight hours in the 'bull pen' of the jail is all we are asking for at first," stated club officers yesterday, "as sentences for motorists who drive recklessly."

Automobiles in 1920 were responsible for half as many deaths as all the factories, railroads and mines put together, it is pointed out in the new safety drive against traffic accidents. Out of total of 865 deaths from accidents in Los Angeles during two years ending June 30, it is shown that 328 were caused by automobiles. The next greatest number, 105, is attributed to falls and the next, 73, to the electric railways.

Fines Fail in Results

A system of fines has been tried out for fifteen years with no appreciable result on the maniacs who are addicted to speeding, points out E. B. Lefferts, in charge of the safety bureau, and so the only additional action to be taken is in giving the jail system an equally thorough tryout. That is what is being sought at the present time.

Pauline Frederick, "Bill" Russell, Tom Mix, Gloria Swanson and Mme. Nazimova are other stars who have expressed themselves as favoring strict compliance with all traffic laws.

Compliment Given to Local Buick Agency

Conditions in the automobile industry were discussed the other day by William A. Tanner, of Tanner & Hall, Ltd., 237 South Brand boulevard, and R. W. Battelle, of Pasadena, secretary of the San Gabriel Valley Auto Trades association.

Mr. Tanner's caller called attention to the evangelistic work, in preaching the gospel of clean and attractive garages and repair shops, being done by Robert W. Martland, secretary and manager of the California Automobile Trade association, who is now speaking to business men and bankers throughout the state upon the importance of the automobile industry as a community asset.

The movement for the introduction of modern cost keeping systems in up-to-date garages and the education of the dealers to give the public full measure of service is thoroughly approved by Mr. Tanner.

Mr. Battelle complimented the Buick agency for the cleanliness of its premises.

Hup Conveniences Are Worth While, Declared

"I expect that Hup drivers were more pleased than ever with their cars during the recent dampness on account of the windshield cleaner attached to every model," said Lanier Bartlett, of Bartlett & French, 201 South Brand boulevard, yesterday. "The convenience of the storm curtains is another feature of the Hupmobile. These are rolled up under the top across the front and rear of the car. When they are needed, they can be unrolled very readily without discommoding the passengers. The front curtains are attached to the doors and open with them so that it is not necessary to climb under the storm curtains to get into the car."

LET LIGHTS BURN! SAVE STORAGE BATTERIES

Accumulation of Electricity in Excess Causes Short Circuits, It Is Said

"Your lights are burning, Mister."

"Yes, I know it," is an inscription which will be seen on more than one automobile in the coming year. At least, until the remainder of the motoring public come to realize that a car with burning headlights is not the result of an all-night joy ride or accidental turning of the light switch. One driver threatened to use such a sign when told by a battery service man that long day-time trips and high charging rate of his generator under such conditions meant certain disaster for the storage battery on his car unless he burned the lights.

In that respect, at least, the European name "Accumulator" by which storage batteries are known over there is more literally correct. An automobile battery merely accumulates the surplus electricity developed by the generator and when that current becomes excessive, the work done in the battery (and it is just as much work for a battery to take a charge as it is to give it off), becomes a burden to it and overheating results.

Most car owners know by this time that overheating means buckled plates, destruction of certain kinds of insulation materials commonly used and short circuits. Escape from this danger may be had by burning the headlights while on long day trips, particularly when a recent test has shown the battery to be fully charged.

The Willard Storage Battery company, represented here by the E. W. Cizek company, strikes a timely note of warning in their latest booklet, entitled, "Willard Service; For Your Battery's Benefit—and Yours." They say never allow your battery to become overheated in service; keep all cells filled with distilled water; keep your battery fully charged. The battery will then take care of itself.

Come to Glendale to Buy Tires, Is Report

"You would be surprised at the number of out-of-town people who are being brought to Glendale just to buy tires from us," remarked E. D. Halliwell, manager of the Automobile Tire Company's branch store, 211 South Brand boulevard, yesterday. "At least twenty people came in from Burbank, Tujunga and LaCanada last week because this is the closest point where they can get tires with our quality and price combined.

"Every two weeks we mail a price list to the 5500 automobile owners in this district. About ten days ago I sold a tire to a man who had gotten a puncture on his way out from Los Angeles. Last night he happened to be coming out again and he got another puncture. The store was closed, but he hunted me up at my home and I came down at 8 o'clock and sold him another tire. No, it wasn't the tire I sold him before which blew out.

"We have been open three weeks today. Have we done as much business as we anticipated? No, we have done three times that much. Our most expensive tires are $45 or $50, but it doesn't take long to do $200 or $300 worth of business. We are doing more business at this store already than some other branches which have been established four and five years."

A Standard Willard for a Ford

You might suppose that, because Willard will not make a special Ford battery, the regular Willard Battery (Ford size) would cost a lot more than others, but it doesn't. We can show you in five minutes if you'll come in.

'DOCTOR OF BUSINESS' HANDS OUT LIBERAL DOSES OF TRADE ADVICE

L. H. Bennett is Speaker at Meeting of Automobile Men in Pasadena; How to Increase Income

"Doctor of business" was the title conferred upon L. H. Bennett, member of the California Auto Trades Association, at the banquet Tuesday night in Pasadena of the San Gabriel Valley Automobile Trade Association.

The meeting was attended by about a hundred auto dealers of the district, including several from Glendale. They agreed that Mr. Bennett deserved the degree of "B. A."—or "business asset."

In order to stimulate laggard and careless auto dealers to more efficient business methods for the mutual good of manufacturers, jobbers, and retailers in the industry, Mr. Bennett is being supported in the field by a number of prominent automobile jobbers who have sent him forth to preach the gospel of common sense.

Mr. Bennett has been in the auto "game" from its inception. He knows its advanced texts as well as its A. B. C.'s. As the operator of a garage he learned the "ins and outs" of the business and admits that many of the common mistakes he has made himself. However, he believed in profiting by experience and soon mastered some definite principles which gave him a firm grip upon the complexities of the industry. On account of his experience and his practical and theoretical knowledge of the automobile business as soon as he took the field last May in his present work, he was immediately in great demand as a business advisor.

Conferences Proposed

After the first of the year, Mr. Bennett will be back in this district again and will spend several weeks conferring with automobile dealers and privately advising members of the California Auto Trades Association who wish him to investigate their business methods and make recommendations. There is no charge for this service and the report is strictly confidential. It is understood that Mr. Bennett makes no statement to the firms he represents in regard to individual concerns.

"Rising costs of doing business and falling gross profits are bothering every business man today, particularly if he is an employer," declared Mr. Bennett at the Pasadena banquet at which he illustrated many of his points by special charts. "Two or three years ago business crowded into every store and it was not necessary to go out after it. Then about a year ago it dropped off. It had been found necessary to increase expenses which continued while the profits were less because the selling price had been reduced.

Awaken Careless Dealers

"Our idea is to do everything we can to awaken the careless dealers. We are making an effort to show dealers general conditions and to make some effort to improve the morale both from the dealer's and jobber's standpoints. If dealers do not eliminate some of the leaks in the business, the mortality in this industry is going to be very high.

"Leaks ruin many businesses. Not one in twenty dealers that we have visited so far has a first class accounting system and not one in ten keeps a double entry system of booking."

The banking situation was touched upon by Mr. Bennett, who said it reminded his audience that two or three years ago getting loans from a bank had been fairly easy because both dealers and bankers had assumed that a firm which sold automobiles was certain to be able to repay its debts.

"The auto business is no different from any other business," said Mr. Bennett, "and from now on it will be almost impossible for the auto dealer to get money from his bank unless he is able to show an accurate statement and inform the banker that his establishment is operated under a first class accounting system.

Banks Want to Loan

"Money is not hard to get. Banks are anxious to loan it; that's their business. We think if a dealer will put in a proper accounting system and provide an adequate system of taking care of his expenses, he should have no trouble in getting a loan if he is entitled to it. If he can show his banker where he stands when he wants money, it will be easy to secure. Unless yau have an accounting system you can't show whether you are a careful or careless dealer."

Capital tied up in a garage or salesroom building or its equipment does not interest a banker nearly as much as the dealer's bank balance, his merchandisable stock and his outstanding notes, according to Mr. Bennett.

"The auto dealer has always been a very good fellow," remarked the speaker, commenting upon collections. "He is always among the last to be paid. I don't know but what he is paid even after the doctor. The average man considers tradesmen first.

Not Over Thirty Days

"Don't carry an account over thirty days because then you are financing your customer. I don't believe any dealer can afford to finance some one else, because he needs his capital himself. Paying of notes promptly and taking advantage of every trade discount will have a great bearing upon your success.

"An old account is a liability from a business standpoint as well as financially because a man, who owes a bill always avoids meeting his debtor and will go across the street to spend his money elsewhere. It never pays to let an account ride. Those three months old are always the ones you have to trim and cut down. This winter you are going to need your money very badly.

"One of the largest leaks in the business comes from the inefficiency of yourself and employees. When business was good many dealers took up golf, and became fishermen and hunters. It got to a point where they didn't work more than a few hours a day. Today it is necessary for a man to stay on the job because he has so many expenses and leaks to look after. Yon can't expect your employees to put forth their best efforts if you go away and set a bad example.

"You can't afford to carry a dead man on your payroll, either—there isn't enough business. There is a tendency on the part of the average mechanic to do just as little work as possible. This attitude is not particularly his fault, but is the result of previous conditions. You can't drive your employees; you have got to lead them, but they must be trained to work in the old style."

Give Customers Full Value

Mr. Bennett declared that it was absolutely necessary for the auto dealers to awake to the necessity of giving customers full value for their money to prevent further inroads into the business by the special filling, greasing stations, and other establishments performing one special function cheaply and efficiently.

"At this particular time you need all the business you can get, said Mr. Bennett. "You must get out and get it because your opponents are wide awake. You must not neglect any part of your business, or your expenses will become so heavy that you will go down and out. People always support a man on his toes ready to give them real service."

Mr. Bennett mentioned the case of a man who had gone into the automobile business recently and had done almost $11,000 worth of business the first month and $14,000 the second month, with seven employees, in spite of five competitors in the vicinity, solely because he gave real service.

Speaking of the filling stations, Mr. Bennett remarked: "Those fellows realize the value of service and are giving it and getting their business."

"Doctor" Bennett commented on the unfortunate limitation of the automobile dealer's business over the field in 1914 when the dealer controlled the garage and repair business, sale of accessories and parts, and the source of gasoline and oil supplies as well as mere storage and sales agencies.

Must Display Your Goods

"Not one time in a hundred does a dealer really make an effort to sell an accessory. Only once during my present trip has the slightest attempt been made to sell me anything. That was over in Bakersfield, and I think the dealer had been tipped off to my identity," he said.

An incident was related by Mr. Bennett of a customer who had come into his garage, placed an order for some work and then gone into another garage and bought a jack and returned with it because he did not know that Mr. Bennett had jacks in stock.

"You must display your goods," cautioned the speaker. "You can't expect customers to read your mind or look under the counter.

"Used cars are more of a liability than an asset. Generally speaking you are taking a chance every time you accept one and you can't afford to gamble much at the present time."

A suggestion was made that the dealer should demand a large enough first payment down to cover the expenses of the transaction in case further installments should not be forthcoming.

"The day of the dirty garage is about gone," warned Mr. Bennett. "The dirty man in the dirty overalls is becoming an outcast. The public is being educated. At this time it is hard to find a man who doesn't know something about autos. He will not patronize unkempt places of business.

Warning Given Dealers

"There is a great tendency now to break down present methods of distribution. This year more than 200 buying associations to sell goods directly from the manufacturer to the consumer have been organized. The income of most of these concerns is small. The largest took in about $2,000,000 last year. I know that this seems like a lot of money, but if all the legitimate auto dealers would just make a special effort to sell $4 or $5 or even $2 or $3 worth of accessories a day this amount would soon be more than covered. The dealer and jobber are absolutely tied together. There should be cooperation between jobbers and dealers and between the dealers themselves. If the dealer and jobber will work together a great many of the present evils in the industry can be overcome."

New Prices---New Improvements--- on the Hupmobile

With the latest price reductions, and the latest improvements, the Hupmobile now stands at the very peak of good motor car values. The new prices, for delivery in Glendale, are as follows:

Touring and Roadster	$1695
Coupe	2445
Sedan	2495

(Includes all charges—revenue tax, freight, etc.)

If Hupmobile value had previously been open for comparison, there is no ground for comparison now.

These new prices, and the betterments we speak of, put this car more than ever in a class by itself.

No car of equal quality and equal ability is to be bought today at such a fair and reasonable figure.

All of the improvements are such as to add to the car's performance, economy or convenience. They include:

1 Cord tires, 32x4 inches, as regular equipment on all models.

2 New carburetor which, by means of an automatic economizer, increases gas mileage; and improves acceleration and flexibility by automatic operation of an acceleration "well." The engine starts more easily and warms up more quickly and smoothly.

3 An increase of 25 per cent in the capacity of the storage battery. Thirteen plate battery.

4 New cushion springs that increase riding comfort.

5 Brake adjustment and equalization made easy and permanent.

6 Heavier frame increases rigidity of chassis and makes both body and chassis more quiet.

If you have been waiting to buy a car, the time to buy is here, now, and the car is the Hupmobile.

Come and see it. Ride in it. Even go out and try to find its equal in the matter of price, quality, performance, or any other feature, and we feel sure you will come back to the Hupmobile.

SALES AND SERVICE

Studebaker Parts Are Best Possible, Claim

In a statement just issued by A. R. Erskinie, president of the Studebaker corporation of America a marked tribute is paid to automotive engineering designs and advanced metallurgy.

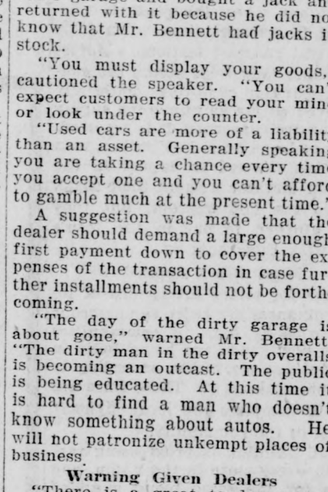
In checking up records of sales of cars and repair parts comparisons were made between the first eight months periods of 1919, 1920 and 1921 and it was found that while cars sales had increased and more cars were in operation that the sales of repair parts had grown appreciably less instead of greater.

It was to be expected that more cars running and the earlier models showing signs of wear that the parts business would increase in greater ratio than new car sales, but while there are now 116,000 more Studebakers running today than there were two years ago the sales of parts for this year has been three per centum less than during the same relative period of 1919.

An increase of 101 per cent in car sales was noted for this year as compared with 1919 and a 41 per cent increase over last year. Studebaker is one of the few factories that is running full time with a full force.

S. C. Packer, Studebaker dealer for San Fernando valley, ascribes this reversal of form in repair parts sales to the better materials and heat treated steels that are incorporated in Studebaker cars today and to the advanced engineering designs all of which add to the life of the cars and reduce operating and repair costs.

Insect-eating birds as a rule do not eat butterflies.



You should have those improvements made in your plumbing. Prompt and efficient service at all times is our motto.

ROAD MAPPING TRIP AROUND U. S. RIM IS COMPLETED

Some Hotels Not Yet Certain War Is Over, Prices Show, Declares Auto Club

Around the rim of the United States in 120 days, completing the world's greatest charting and road mapping trip, covering 23,000 miles of highway, is the latest accomplishment of a crew representing the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Bringing complete road data on all southern and eastern main highways, the club representatives returned to Los Angeles yesterday after a continuous journey of four months.

Mapping data for every main highway in America has now been secured first hand by the auto club. Touring information is also available at the club on all routes through the southern states and into Canada.

Rates Still High

Hotels, in many places throughout the east and south, are not yet aware that the war is over, according to the club men. Rates for rooms in certain localities have not yet "come down" even to the level that they are in Los Angeles.

Charges for gasoline in the east are higher when the stuff is purchased in garages than when it is bought at gasoline stations. Motorists taking long trips across the continent will find conditions materially improved so far as numerous supply stations are concerned, it is reported.

In one large hotel in Houston, men were not allowed to appear in the lobby or elevator without their coats, despite the hot weather, but they were allowed to eat in the men's grill with their hats on.

Many Fines Applied

Fines for minor infractions of local ordinances are twice as numerous and twice as high in communities where new roads are being built in the south as elsewhere, according to the auto club crew. These fines are used to complete the local highway budget of the community.

Road building is progressing rapidly in every state in the union, and funds for the same being supplied principally by the state itself. In the majority of instances every possible effort is being made to link up the through routes of the transcontinental highways as rapidly as possible.

Buick Motor Car Co. Increasing Its Plant

"I see the Buick Motor company has built a new addition to its plant at Flint, Mich.," remarked Ray Galvin of Tanner & Hall, Ltd., 237 South Brand boulevard, the other day. "The new unit is large enough to have housed the entire factory in the early days. Today it is only one of forty other buildings. Every foot of floor space is utilized. The machines are ranged in long rows so that the parts can be passed from one to the other. From what I have been able to understand it is a regular plant and getting bigger all the time."

One of our esteemed competitors, the "N. Y. Life Insurance must grow, as knowledge grows, as human affection grows, and as men learn to enter into and possess, for themselves and for their children, their rightful heritage."

When Louis B. Mayer announced that John M. Stahl's first independent unit production for Associated First National Pictures, Inc., would be of all-star calibre, he really meant all-star and proved it by a cast assemblage made up of players who are individual screen stars in their own right.

Heading the list is Lewis Stone, former Broadway star. Opposite him is Barbara Castleton, the screen favorite of thousands of theatre patrons. The third corner of the eternal triangle was trusted to William Desmond.

Little Richard Headrick, still famous for his part in "The Woman in His House," was again chosen by Mr. Stahl to play a prominent role in "The Child Thou Gavest Me," coming to the Palace Grand tomorrow and Monday. Although three and a half years old, the boy is the center of attention every time he appears on the screen.

Tonight closes the run of Rupert Hughes' "The Old Nest" and Buster Keaton's "The Playhouse."

Monday night will be another "Mothers' Night."

Velie Motors Further Reduce Light Six Price

The Velie Motors corporation this week announced a further substantial reduction in the price of the Velie Light Six,—the model which, driven by H. E. Adams of Glendale, made the famous trip to the bottom of the Grand Canyon and back under its own power.

The reduction amounts to $150 and brings the price, delivered in Glendale, down to $1475.

The total reduction in the price of the popular Light Six during the past year amounts to over $400. Added value has also been built into the car itself during this period by adding such improvements as Cord tires, the Alemite system, a motor-driven horn, enclosing the motor, a new and more costly type of door handles, and numerous other refinements.

According to the Velie Glendale motors, there is no use waiting longer if you want a Velie, for this new price is surely rock bottom.

Angelus Park Property Is In Great Demand

Angelus Park, lying adjacent to South Glendale, having a frontage on both Glendale boulevard and Tropico boulevard, has apparently met all the conditions demanded by lot buyers, judging by the heavy demand for the excellent lots in this tract. A large number of the sales have been made to Glendale people, who are familiar with the conditions that prevail in this section, and could readily see that within a short time it will be built up solidly with homes which will cause a great enhancement of realty values. In nearly all cases, the purchasers of these lots intend to build homes, as it is conceded that all essentials for a permanent home-site are supplied.

Many homes now erected at Angelus Park are of modern type and present a fine appearance from the boulevards. About seventy new bungalows have been constructed in the past few months by individuals who had secured an Angelus Park lot for a permanent residence.

The remaining choice lots in this tract are offered to the public at the same prices that were in effect six months ago, and it is anticipated that the entire tract will be sold out in short order. Agents for the sale of lots will be found at the tract office on the corner of Glendale boulevard and Seneca avenue daily, where full information can be secured and the lots shown to you. The main office of the general agents, Rigali & Veselich, is at 706 Merchants National Bank building, Los Angeles.

Horseshoe Tournament May Be Held In Glendale

Through the efforts of W. H. Nichols, 322 East Fairview avenue, treasurer of the State Horseshoe Pitchers' association, Glendale is making a strong bid for the place of the holding the state tournament about the middle of next month. Mr. Nichols has conferred with the Chamber of Commerce and has been given assurance from that body that it will co-operate and boost them in trying to get the tournament held here.

The event is being looked forward to with much interest on the part of the many members of the local association, as much correspondence and inquiries are being received from other cities in the state and the interest shown is increasing.

The meeting held here last Saturday of the state horseshoe pitchers brought many from other centers where increasing interest is being taken in the sport, and the visitors were unanimous in their conviction that Glendale would be an ideal place for holding the tournament.

Mr. Nichols stated today that he thought he would have a complete program outlined and a definite announcement to make within the next few days.

Glen Vista Lots Are Popular; All Secured

All lots in the Glen Vista tract are gone. They went like hotcakes, in fact, all were sold in less than two weeks from the time of the announcement of the contract for street work on Highland avenue.

Chas. B. Guthrie's office, 103½ South Brand boulevard, put the deal through in exactly thirteen days, and then the office force didn't stop to rest, it just went right ahead taking care of clients for other pieces of property in the city. The office is making a strenuous effort to break all records for this month, and the number of inquiries received, and the number of visitors who call every day to be shown the property, all seem to indicate that the record will be broken.

Mr. Guthrie is about the busiest man to be found, and today between the street car and the telephone, managed to say that he had an important announcement to make later which would be of much interest to home seekers in Glendale.

Loraine Gas Range Is Appreciated by Women

"If it is worry that kills a woman, she will live to be at least 200 if she uses one of our Loraine direct action gas ranges," remarked O. J. Merrill, of Coker & Taylor, 209 South Brand boulevard, yesterday afternoon, meditating upon the burnt out bottom of an ordinary gas oven before him. He said that it had been burned out after only six years of service and stated that the Loraine would last over a lifetime."

Harry Hassell States Business Is Growing

"Just out of the high rent district" is the new slogan of Harry Hassel, proprietor of the Glendale Typewriter Exchange. Increasing business required him to have more space. Consequently, he moved into the next "stall"—which is about five feet further away from the street and the high office rent. Yes, he is still located at 107 West Broadway.

Purchase House to Be Moved Off Corner Lot

The large eight-roomhouse at the southwest corner of North Brand boulevard and Wilson avenue has been purchased from the Doner-Hemenway-Burn Realty firm, 110 South Brand boulevard, by G. W. Smith, 320 Milford street.

Mr. Smith is making plans to move the house to a lot on Lexington Drive. This will leave the corner at North Brand and Wilson clear for improvements, and with the building activity now going on in that section of the city, it is probable that a business block will be erected there in the near future.

Business Blocks Being Planned for New Tract

Along with the many recent sales made in Mountain View lots by W. H. Armstrong, 104 North Central avenue, business attention is being directed to that fast-growing section of the city and many plans are now being made for the erection of business blocks, stated Mr. Armstrong today.

Yesterday Mr. Armstrong sold two business blocks at the corner of Acacia and Second street and building will start at once. K. Atwich of Monrovia, who has planned a store, has completed excavating for the building and within the next two weeks much progress will be made on the building.

The Mountain View site is particularly attractive for those seeking good building sites in Glendale, the tract is high, good soil and improvements are either already completed or under way, it is declared. Carpenters will begin work today on the frame work for one home, Mr. Armstrong stated, and another force of workmen will begin pouring cement for a second house. Mr. Armstrong also stated today that he could have made many more sales had it not been for the building restrictions. These restrictions, said Mr. Armstrong, are very good features for those who purchase and build and mean much for the general improvement and building up of the tract.

With the Glen Vista tract, not many blocks away, completely sold out by Charles B. Guthrie, 103½ South Brand, and with the increasing sales made in the Mountain View tract, the first of the year will no doubt see many families settled in the northwest section of Glendale.

LOCAL FOLK ENJOY CADMAN CONCERT BY MUSIC CLUB

tinued applause and called for the repetition of the latter piece.

The next number was a group of piano selections by Mr. Cadman "The Minstrel of Kashmira," based on a Hindu theme which was obtained from a student of the folk lore of that country; "Underneath the Bough," the theme of which was a reflection of the Oriental rather than being based on it; "The Desert's Dusty Face," based on a Persian theme. The latter two numbers were from Mr. Cadman's music for the picturization of "Omar Khayyam." Cadman is more fortunate than most composers in that it is possible for him to adequately present his own compositions in concert. He has a vigorous style and technique suited to his own piano numbers and songs and also a colorful tone-production which is most convincing.

Songs on Chinese Poetry

The third number on the program was a group of songs based on the literal translation of Chinest poetry thousands of years old and also on a Chinese flute song. All three songs are still in manuscript form and have not been published. "Moonlit Tears," "The Streams of Fate" and "Spring Longing," by Miss Messer, accompanied at the piano by Mr. Cadman. As an encore number they presented by request that popular song, "At Dawning," with violin obligato by Mr. Cohen. The next number was a group of violin selections by Mr. Cohen, "Vienese Popular Songs," "Liebesfreud," both by Kreisler, and "The Legend of the Canyon" and "Within the Potter's Shop," by Cadman. "Little Fire Fly," which was given as an encore made a decided hit with the audience, which called back Mr. Cohen to play it a second time.

Several Piano Selections

The next number was a group of piano selections by Mr. Cadman, "Andante from A Major Sonata," "In a Toyshop" and "The Thunderbird Comes from the Cedars," the latter of which was based on an Indian theme. The last number was a group of songs, "Her Shadow" (Ojibway Canoe Song from the opera Shanewis) and "The Spring Song of the Robin Woman," also from Shanewis, by Miss Messer and Mr. Cadman. As an encore they presented "From the Land of the Sky-Blue Water." Miss Messer possesses a brilliant clear soprano of wide range, and sings true to the pitch and in understandable English. Mr. Cohen's technique and finished interpretation also won instant favor with the large audience present.

Members of the Junior auxiliary of the Glendale Music club acted as ushers, under the direction of James Smith, chairman, and included Herbert Bruck, Lawrence Knapp, Dale Wood, Malm Lawyer, Lloyd Knapp, Georgia Thompson, Marcella Webb, Florence Rattray, Marjory Yarick, Genevieve Mulligan and Josephine Booth. The beautiful bouquets of dahlias and cosmos which decorated the stage was the result of the work of the decoration committee of which Mrs. Freeman Kelley was chairman. Mrs. Calvin Whiting acted as chairman of the door committee.

Roads Take Place of Speedway In Auto Test

The highway has taken the place of the speedway as the testing ground for the motor car. In these later days of motor transportation the public is keenly interested in the performance of the motor car under actual touring conditions; he wants to know how many miles to the gallon of gascline it is capable of making and what the stamina of the motor is; he is interested in its power and endurance.

In years gone by the speedway was the testing ground for the motor and American manufacturers by the score entered their cars in the big races of the country with the idea of proving their speed power and endurance. Today, it is the actual road tests that appeal to the public for any one of the standard makes of automobiles will run smoothly and well, but there is a vast difference between the relative power, economy and durability of cars in their respective price classes.

"One of the first automobile concerns to recognize the value of actual road tests for bringing before the public the actual merit of their motor cars was the Maxwell Motor company," asserts E. V. Jellison of the J. & K. garage, local distributors here for the good Maxwell. "As long ago as 1917 the Maxwell set out to annex several road records to prove to the public the goodness of the car and its proven stamina. Those records established by the Maxwell at that time still stand as definite proof of the inbuilt values of the car."
